Houston Police Payoff Racket Will Be Probed

HOUSTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The Harris County Grand Jury, now on vacation, will be called back into session to investigate charges of a police "payoff" racket involving high officials of the police department, District Attorney A. C. Winborn said today.

Winborn is in possession of copies of affidavits made by Mrs. Thompson S. Malone Gears, 30, proprietor of a dine and dance drive-in, and a Houston professional man, in which it is charged that Mrs. Gears started making weekly "protection" payments last April and continued until last week. She made three payments of $150 each, beginning April 10, then got the weekly "bite" reduced to $100, she said.

Mrs. Gears told a Chronicle reporter today that the man operating another night spot had "propositioned" her to join with him in the dope peddling racket and split the protection payoff with him.

Mrs. Gears in her affidavit named a ranking police officer and a uniformed police sergeant. Both denied the charges.

BLS Commissioner Ewan Clague, reported to Secretary of Labor Tobin that although prices of 18 of the foods went up, the rises were more than offset by "sharp seasonal discounts in retail prices for fresh vegetables and lower prices for fresh pork."

He estimated retail prices on all foods to be about two-tenths of one per cent lower than on July 15.

He also estimated the retail food price index at 210.2 per cent of the 1935-1939 average. This was still 2.7 per cent above the index for June 15, and three per cent below the record of July 1948.

Taft Leading Senate Fight On Controls

House Is Nearing Final Passage Of Standby Powers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The house passed today a bill giving broad authority to President Truman to start rationing and clamp ceilings on prices and wages. The home front controls bill went to the senate, already debating a similar measure. It contains more power than the president asked, but no more than he has indicated he would accept.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The house herded its home front controls bill today into a series of votes leading toward final passage.

By top-heavy roll call battle of 393 to 3 it clinched its insistence on giving the president standby power to slap ceilings on wages and prices.

Existing government agencies can handle controls, he said.

The president also told a news conference complete mobilization is in sight.

Along the way to the showdown decisions on controls, the house handed the administration several reverses. It refused the president powers to put breakers in the trade in commodity exchanges. It decided to restrict credit cuts on real estate to new construction begun since August 2.

That was the subject to change

Malik Refuses To End His Stalling

Truman Says Russia Is Filibustering In Council

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—President Truman accused Soviet Russia today of filibustering in the United Nations Security Council.

He said the Russians were filibustering, no doubt about it. In a news conference discussion Truman lauded Warren Austin, U. S. representative of the Council, for doing what he said was a good job.

Once again the president rejected the idea of a meeting with Premier Stalin and other heads of state. But he said he would decide later, if such a suggestion were made, on whether there should be a meeting of high level leaders of the United Nations after settlement of the Korean crisis.

Truman obviously was referring to obstructionist tactics by the Council president and chief Soviet delegate, Jacob Malik.

Malik has been using Council meetings for oratorical propaganda blasts to such extent that not much business can be done.

Many council members planned to meet informally with Malik today to try to get him to stop his delaying operations. They held in reserve a threat to meet speech with speech.

Truman was asked what he thinks of the tactics of Malik and the Russian delegation. He said he wasn't interested in their tactics but was highly pleased with the performance of the United States and British delegations.

He added that he doesn't like filibustering and the Russians are filibustering—no doubt about that.

He was asked if he thought the Russian filibuster was good or bad with reference to the possibility of eventual permanent peace.

The president replied that he couldn't answer that. He didn't know.

The president was asked whom he considered the Russian filibuster.

Reds Mount New Threat To Air Base

New Attacks Are Loosed On Northern Sector Near Taegu

TOKYO, Friday, Aug. 11.—(AP)—U. S. troops Thursday drove 13 miles almost to the outskirts of Chingju and snapped shut behind them an armored trap on possibly 1,000 enemy troops.

It was the biggest single day's gain of the war for American forces.

As Chingju, major enemy base in South Korea, tottered, North Koreans at the other end of the 140-mile front rolled to within eight miles of a U. S. east coast fighter base before being halted.

General MacArthur's war summary said South Koreans checked the enemy's advance, North Koreans at the other end of the 140-mile front rolled to within eight miles of a U. S. east coast fighter base before being halted.

The enemy also loosed new attacks along the northern front, putting renewed pressure on the important supply city of Taegu, 55 miles northwest of Pusan.

They were advancing against resisting South Koreans on a front about 30 miles north of Pusan. The enemy still held a Nakdong river bridgehead 29 miles southwest of Taegu against fierce American attacks. Another bridgehead 12 miles northwest of Taegu was reported wiped out.

U. S. Eighth Army leaders took hasty steps to protect the fighter plane base. It is eight miles southeast of Pusan, on the sea of Japan 55 miles north of Pusan.

Two Red forces rolled back crumpling South Korean troops there. AP correspondent Hal Doyle said the Reds were being protected by heavy American naval guns by lofty mountains in some of Korea's most rugged country.

The Pohang-bound Communists hammered down from Yongdok, which they took Thursday, and drove on four miles to the south.

First Contingent Of Draftees Off For Dallas Exams

Medium Bombers Hit Hardest Licks At Wonsan Targets

Nineteen young men from Navarre county were sent to Dallas Thursday as this county's first group of Selective Service registrants since World War II days.

Harvey E. Ray, Route 4, Corsicana, was the group leader. Twenty had been called to take military examinations but one was excused because of a change in his classification.

A group of 30 has been ordered to report at the Selective Service office in Corsicana, Thursday, Aug. 17. The registrants are to report at 8 a. m. and will leave by chartered bus for Dallas at 8:30 a. m.

Two members of the draft board, Chairman R. R. Cocke and T. J. Dady were on hand when the group left today. Co-chairman E. W. Woolley was out of the city.

Noticeably absent was the group of volunteers who used to serve the boys coffee and doughnuts before they left for military examinations or induction.

Mrs. Mary Simpson, secretary of the Red Cross chapter, said the Red Cross would be willing to cooperate with any group which would like to re-establish this custom.

Truman Unexpectedly Shakes Up RFC High Command After Criticism

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—President Truman has shaken up the top command of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC), multi-billion dollar lending agency which congress wouldn't let him make an adjunct of the Commerce Department.

Apparently tipping off almost one in advance, Truman late Wednesday dropped two members of the off-criticized RFC Board of Directors, including Chairman Harley Hise, and named three new members to the five-man board.

RFC has been the target of increasingly hotter congressional fire for such ventures as a $37,500,000 loan to the now bankrupt, Lustron Corporation and a $100,000,000 money into a Nevada Hotel whose revenue comes largely from a gambling casino.

Crime Probers Seeking Missing Chicago Bookie

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The senate crime investigating committee is on the trail of a Chicago bookie it suspects may have saved in the lush Florida gambling field.

The missing witness is Harry Russell, identified by his committee as a Chicago gambling operator who became a member of the highly profitable S. and G. horse book syndicate in Miami Beach.

Russell's name figured prominently in testimony of the committee's hearing Wednesday when other members of the syndicate gave their version of how the Chicago came in for one-sixth interest for $20,000.

The committee has tried for three months to locate Russell. "We have some new leads on him," Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn.) told reporters, "and we'll get him sooner or later."

MacArthur Praised By Truman For Work As American-UN Far East Chief

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—President Truman said today he is satisfied with what Gen. Douglas MacArthur is doing as American and United Nations commander in the Far East.

He also told a news conference he had not met anybody of the sort described by MacArthur in a statement Wednesday night in which MacArthur said he was in Tokyo.

Truman steered clear of comment on MacArthur's trip and the controversy which has grown around it.

Asked for information on the report which he received from W. Averell Harriman, his foreign affairs coordinator, who is just back from Tokyo, Truman replied: "Harriman had expressed all that

Senate Rejection Of Four Nominees Is Brushed Aside

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Senate rejection of four of President Truman's nominations to government posts was brushed aside by Democratic leader Lucas of Illinois today as just an old senate custom.

There was no test of President Truman's popularity in the senate," Lucas told a reporter. "When senators have objected to nominations, they usually have been refused confirmation as long as our government has been in existence."

Other senate veterans said they could not remember when four senate presidential appointments had been refused confirmation in a single day's session, as happened Wednesday.

A log-jam in legislation actually produced the pipe-up because some of the rejected nominations had been pending since as far back as June 1.

The main threat to the fighter base came from another Red force rolling toward it from the mountain village of Kigye, eight miles northwest of Ponghwa. A North Korean patrol of 30 men commanded the Yongchou-Ponghwa supply road with machine-guns.

Four U. S. Mustang fighters were shot down by ground fire after taking off to machinegun the invaders. One pilot was lost and three were rescued, Boyle reported.

Twenty-nine miles southwest of Taegu, the main U. S. base on the central front, a battalion of Reds held off elements of the U. S. 24th and Second Divisions on the banks of the Nakdong river.

American planes, including 70 B-29s from Japan and Okinawa, plastered the North Koreans. The air force said the B-29s badly crippled northern rail lines with the biggest raid on the war on Wonsan, east coast rail center north of the 38th parallel. The big planes caught the 25 track-wide rail yard jammed with traffic. Ammunition, fuel, food and other supplies went up in a gigantic fire.

The U. S. 8th army headquarters in a communiqué at 9:45 p. m. (5:45 a. m. CST) Thursday said United Nations troops battled aggressively on all fronts to expand gains in the South.

Elements of the 24th division tried to dislodge river-crossing Communists dug in southwest of Taegu but were unsuccessful.

The first U. S. cavalry division annihilated another enemy force northwest of Taegu about 7 p. m. (3 p. m. CST) Thursday, killing 300 Reds and capturing 20, the communiqué said.

Farther north on the 140-mile front, South Koreans captured 3 Russian-made tanks in close fighting. Planes knocked out six more.

The allied gains on the South coast were the biggest of the United Nations offensive which jumped Monday westward from near Masan, South coast port.

Hundreds of North Koreans were forced to retreat toward Chinju base, so fast they left quantities of arms and equipment behind. They were of the North Korean Sixth division.

In apparently sacrificing the Sixth Division, the Red command ordered the North Korean First Division toward the Nakdong river barrier battle 20 miles north of Chinju. The First Division had been supporting the Sixth Division.

U. S. 8th Army headquarters said the Sixth may try to make a stand in high ground west of Chinju.

AP Correspondent Don White reported from the front that reserve units destroyed pockets of Reds whose guns had stalled the southern thrust from Monday until Wednesday.

Resistance on the road to Chinju was described as "light" by a general officer. The Americans captured high ground six miles east of Chinju after a sharp skirmish.

U. S. patrols of the Fifth and 35th Army regimental teams were within two miles of Chinju.

AP Correspondent Tom Lambert reported advanced units of the 35th combat team 12 miles east of Chinju. That snapped the steel trap.

The link up cut off an estimated 100 square miles of rugged, mountainous and forested terrain of two Red battalions. In the fighting for Chinju the battalions are estimated to have been reduced from 2,000 men to 1,000.

U. S. Fifth regiment Marines entered Kosong, a south coast village. Correspondent Lambert reported the spirits of the Leathernecks and of the doughboys just to the north of them were high.

cer said the retreat of the North Koreans toward Chinju was made "in the nature of a rout." The main body of U. S. Army troops was five miles out of Chinju Thursday night.

Marine fliers supporting the Chinju drive reported knocking out two 50-ton Russian tanks. The Marines said they flew so low that North Korean mortars fired at them from heights of ridges above them.

Twenty miles north of Chinju the Communists had fought into the allied east bank of the Nakdong and established a mile-long battle line. A breakthrough by the estimated 3,000 Reds could imperil Taegu, 23 miles northwest of the bridgehead.

Forces of the 24th Division, the veteran Americans outfit of the Korean war, were repulsed in attacks on the Reds, AP correspondent O. H. P. King reported. The Cavalrymen and South Korean troops disposed of two smaller Red forces that crossed the Nakdong about 15 miles northwest of Taegu. In addition to the 300 Reds the cavalrymen killed, the South Koreans counted 900 Communist bodies on their river-side battlefield of Wednesday.

The larger of these two river-crossing forces was at Nosok village, about two miles south of Wengwan. At Opyong, the Reds turned their own artillery on their own men to make them stand and fight. Opyong is seven miles north of Nosok.

struck. FEAF said their aim was accurate.

The Chosen oil refinery had an annual production capacity of well over 1,500,000 barrels of crude oil. Its storage capacity was estimated at 20,000 barrels. Bombs hit the heart of the refinery.

The North Koreans already badly crippled transportation system was largely dependent on the Wonsan locomotive and car repair shops to patch up its rolling stock.

The B-29s returned to the refinery target because previous strikes had failed to knock it out. The installation is 80 miles north of the 38th line.

The previous high B-29 bomb drop on North Korean targets was 500 tons in one day.

Reports of the B-29 operations came from East Air Forces headquarters. The latest strikes brought to 46 the number of consecutive days during which American air power has hit Communist objectives.

Allied bombers and fighters hit a wide range of military objectives including rail yards, bridges and communications.

American strikes also were made in support of ground action along the 140-mile fighting front.

Royal Australian air force planes flew infantry support missions centered in the fight along the Nakdong river.

FEAF gave this picture of the air action:

"B-29 bombers concentrated efforts heavily against east coast communications facilities and especially a concentration of eight locomotives and 240 cars in yards at Kowon, about 70 miles north of Parellel 38.

These strikes were a continuation of a five-day series which has accounted for 14 key bridges, two large industrial installations and other supply sources.

One B-29 mission swung away from its original objective to pummel a concentration of eight locomotives and 240 cars in yards at Kowon, about 70 miles north of Parellel 38.

About 12 tons of bombs were dumped "with excellent results" on the massed train equipment. The B-29 mission first had started for a strike on bridges at Yonghung.

Other bridges and railway arteries were pounded at Songjin on North Korea's coast, at Hwanggan and Kumchun in South Korea.

Sorties flown in ground support missions neared the 500 mark—the daily average of the past week. Most of these were along the Nakdong river in the Wengwan area and near Chinju on the southern front.

Jets strafed a troop convoy and started fires in a large warehouse at Mokpo on the southwestern coast. Other strafing attacks hit Yonju and Taeyang.

Other strafing attacks hit Yonju and Taeyang. 39 vehicles were reported damaged. A fuel dump, two large buildings and a gun position were hit in strikes at Koryong and Chinju.

Trip carrier aircraft of the 5th Air Force carried 62 tons of urgently needed military supplies and equipment to Korean airfields.

Warren, C. V. Griffin, Florida citrus grower, said he had asked Johnston and Louis Wolfson, Jacksonville businessman, to underwrite the campaign, that they had divided expenses and that his share was $154,000.

Pilot and Plane Surprise Batory

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The Polish liner Batory was en route to Europe today with an airplane who landed near the seaplane near the vessel more than 100 miles out in the Atlantic. Whether it was by accident or design no one could say. Justice and state department officials were puzzled.

The seaplane pilot, after giving another name to the skipper of the Batory, finally said his name was William Jesse Newton of New York. The skipper, Capt. Jan Cwiklinski, messaged the Gdynia-American Line that Newton had U. S. citizen's passport No. 357 issued by the American embassy in Mexico Jan. 7, 1947.

The Batory asked the Coast Guard to take him off the vessel after it picked him up Tuesday. The Coast Guard declined, and pilot and seaplane went on with the Batory, which pauses at Southampton, England, next Wednesday on its way to Poland.

Bank Studying Loans To Mexico

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The Export-Import Bank has under study a Mexican financial program, centered mainly around irrigation.

A bank official said yesterday the program does not mention either specific projects or a definite sum of money.

Last year negotiations for a Mexican oil loan fell through. Informed sources believe the state-made general line of credit.

This lump sum would include money for irrigation, highways, power projects and other such programs worked out in Mexico. Mexico then would draw from this sum for specific projects.

It was pointed out that this procedure could allow Mexico to spend its own dollars for oil development, and use the new credit to pay for irrigation and other projects it is now financing domestically.

The credit in this way would be an indirect way of financing the oil program.

New Controversy On Cotton Acreage Bill Breaks Out In Texas Delegation

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—A controversy among Texas members of congress over the cotton quota bill broke out anew today before the senate agriculture committee.

Reps. Mahon and Poage, Texas Democrats, voiced opposing views on a provision which applies strictly to their state.

Under discussion was a section of the pending legislation providing that in any state where 1950 cotton plantings topped 3,000,000 acres, grain sorghums, flax and other war crops should be regarded as cotton in figuring 1951 quotas.

Only Texas grew more than 3,000,000 acres last year.

Mahon District Loses.

The new provision would cause a redistribution of quotas in the state, with four South and West Texas congressional districts losing acreage while the remaining 17 districts would gain.

Mother Of GOP Nominee Demo

FORT WORTH, Aug. 10.—(AP)—When Mrs. Sue Gullidge Currie of Fort Worth learned her son, Ralph W. Currie of Dallas, had been nominated the Republican candidate for Texas governor, she didn't seem very happy.

"I have nothing to say about it," she told a reporter.

The newsmen caught a moment and then asked:

"Mrs. Currie, are you a Democrat?"

"Yes!" came the answer direct and to the point.

When asked if she would vote for her son for governor, she hesitated and then replied:

"I don't know."

acres in District 19, by 82,000 in District 15 and by 13,000 each in Districts 16 and 18.

This 483,000 acres would go to the other 17 districts. Those which planted the most war crops, such as grain sorghums and flax, would receive the greatest increases.

Allocations Listed.

The allocations for each of the 21 districts under the pending legislation follow, with the 1950 allotment in parentheses:

No. 1—353,599 (351,341); No. 2—33,597 (29,245); No. 3—109,987 (96,988); No. 4—648,560 (612,908);

No. 5—60,476 (54,131); No. 6—712,038 (685,703); No. 7—132,809 (103,689); No. 8—4,875 (4,030); No. 9—398,995 (370,270); No. 10—362,342 (335,803); No. 11—426,240 (401,261); No. 12—73,039 (64,651); No. 13—339,207 (299,829); No. 14—469,507 (350,765); No. 15—306,346 (416,468); No. 16—241,779 (137,569); No. 17—330,388 (281,255); No. 18—423,382 (436,634); No. 19—1,992,509 (2,347,847); No. 20—8,167 (4,287); No. 21—West Texas—267,240 (216,665).

The cotton acreage law of 1950 was followed by many complaints of inequities, particularly because no credit was given for war crops in Texas and some other states.

As a result emergency legislation was pushed through last spring increasing the national base of 21,000,000 acres by about 630,000 acres. Texas got about 400,000 of this.

This was done to correct inequities until congress could take further action, as provided in the bill now pending.

Virtually every county in Texas received some additional acreage under the 1950 emergency legislation. The loss of this would in most instances be more than offset by redistribution of acreage in 1951 under the pending bill.

Should this not become law, allocations would be the same as provided by the original 1950 quota law.

PILLS AND CHILDREN

There are couple of headlines about children and medicine bottles which are written so often that the people in the news room can almost turn them out with their eyes closed, as the saying goes. One, to be read with a catch of the heart and then a little sigh, goes something like this: "Takes Sleeping Pills; Child Escapes Death." The other, bringing a catch which moves from heart to throat and stays there, might say:
"Child Dies After Swallowing Pills."

Why should stories about children and bottles of pills be so common in the daily news? There are not any good reasons, only explanations. Families with small children are likely to have bottles of medicine; not so many have sleeping pills around but there are many other kinds which are dangerous in overdose. Mother likes to keep them handy, so that she can find them immediately when she wants them. Small children are incurably inquisitive and imitative. If the pills are where children can reach them, children will find them. Children who have watched their elders swallow pills from a bottle will do likewise if they get hold of the bottle. It is easy to explain how these accidents happen. But why are they allowed? There seems to be no answer to that one.

Some homes go through the trials of child-rearing without such tragedies, and near-tragedies. In some cases it may be luck. More likely these are homes in which the medicine bottles are always kept beyond the reach of small fingers, and, the children are taught, from earliest days of learning, that medicines are used only under parental supervision.
If that were the practice in every home, those two familiar headlines would go into the discard.

BELL OF TENNESSEE
Americans who should not have been forgotten are being reintroduced by historians. John Bell has reappeared in a life by Prof. Joseph H. Parks of Birmingham Southern College. As a candidate for president against Lincoln, Bell should interest many to whom now
he is not even a name.
Tennessee has had three presidents and four presidential candidates. The three presidents were Andrew Jackson, James K. Polk and Andrew Johnson. As Johnson was never nominated for the office but came in through the death of Lincoln, the list of four candidates is obtained by adding Bell and Hugh L. White, a former Jacksonian who broke with his chief and ran unsuccessfully against Martin Van Buren.

Bell, too, was an ex-Jack-sonian who helped to organize the Whig party. To be a Whig was to dislike Jackson, to favor a protective tariff and federal appropriations for local improvements, and above all to have a strong love for the Union.
When disunionists like Calhoun and Jefferson Davis were trying to drag the South into secession, Whigs like Bell stood their off. In 1860 he ran for president on the Constitutional Union ticket, whose platform was "No secession, and neither any interference with slavery or extension of it." On this platform he carried Tennessee, Kentucky and Virginia, getting more electoral votes than Lincoln's Douglas. He opposed secession to the last, but followed his state when she took the step of leaving the Union.

The Poet Of The People

QUATRAINS
Counsel.
"Be nice!" The mother often said.
The father: "Always use your head."
Two bits of counsel wise I needed,
And wish more often I had heeded.

Kin And Friends.
Relatives are born, and they Form the group we can't evade.
Friends to cherish day by day
Must be made.

Vacation.
Two weeks or three from toll
Get free
To rest on beaches sanded,
And think it fun, when fishing's done,
To clean the few you've landed.

Golf Truth.
When angry golfers break their clubs
The truth of poor shots this is:
It's not the club that makes the dub.

It is the man who misses.

graphers might find a fruitful subject in Clement L.
Vallandigham, the Ohio copperhead who was one of Lincoln's greatest trials. His brother wrote a eulogy to him, but no one else has taken him up. It would be interesting to know why he almost became another Benedict Arnold, and how he escaped.

NEW RED DISSIDENTS

There might seem to be a good omen for the West in the fact that there are in West Germany more than a hundred Communist leaders who have been ousted from the party for opposing the Russian foreign policy line, and who have now formed an anti-Kremlin Communist group in Germany. Actually this may complicate the political problems of the Western Powers.

These German Communist dissidents are linked to the Tito Communists in Yugoslavia, since like Tito
they cling staunchly to Communist doctrine in general, but wish to be mere friends
rather than obedient servants of Moscow. The United States has applauded and aided Tito, thus getting into the peculiar position of be-friending a Communist dictator while being an avowed enemy of Communism. If we recognize and encourage the new "Titoist" movement in Germany we shall be in a similar position there. But if we do not we may overlook an important opportunity to obstruct Moscow influence. A good crystal ball would come in very handy.

MYSTERIOUS WATER

The Geology Survey of the Department of the Interior declares that an old New England legend is all wet. This is the old belief that the underground supplies of fresh water on Cape Cod come from Lake Winni-pesaukee in New Hampshire, by way of an underground river. The geologists say flatly that all of the ground water on the Cape comes from the rain and snow which fall there. There is no evidence of any tunnel between the New Hampshire lake and the Cape,
they say, and furthermore the nature of the rock formations would prevent the occurrence of such an underground stream.

Humph! This is purely circumstantial evidence;
since when is that better than legend?

LIFE IN THE COLD

How do plant seeds manage to live through Arctic winters? Prof. Ira Wiggins, who teaches biology at Stanford University, has been making a ten-week stay at Point Barrow, Alaska, hoping to learn their secret of enduring life under the hardest conditions. His party will bring back flowering plants and soil specimens, whose analysis will, it is hoped,
help to unravel the mystery.
The study might also throw light on the problem of human endurance under extreme cold. Recently experiments were conducted in Alaska to learn how our military personnel could expect to live and fight in the Arctic. The Stanford researches, leading to more detailed knowledge of super-cold conditions, might benefit future
Arctic expeditions.

Golf prowess is not necessarily determined by the distance a ball can be hit into the rough.

Crowded Rooms In City Schools Cited By Board

Crowded elementary school rooms and the need for more expansion was reiterated at the Board of Education meeting Tuesday evening.

It was evident that a building program must be launched in the near future for the Texas Education Agency had reminded him that too many pupils have been placed in a single room. The number shouldn't exceed 35.

The possibility of setting up temporary "frame schools" at some schools was advanced, but any action on expansion was deferred until a later date—and apparently until more revenue is found.

In a two-hour session starting at 5 p. m., the board also revealed that the joint city-school board of equalization will consist of John Marchison, chairman, Roark Montgomery, Nath Garrett, and Roy Harrison. The latter will do appraising for the schools.

This board will set up appraisers for about two weeks, and then function as the equalization board, Norwood announced.

The annual public hearing on the 1950-51 school year budget will be held at 5 a. m. September 5, the board decided on recommendation of Norwood. This will be mostly a formality, since a general idea of the school's needs for the year has already been provided by the superintendent. It will be approximately the same as last year's $854,000 budget.

Two new teachers, Donald Higgins, Sam Houston school, and Miss Jeanette Middleton, junior high—were approved. A salary raise for Band Director H. L. Hill was discussed, and a committee was named to recommend the figure.

The board approved bills totaling $12,390.37, which include a large amount of new equipment and supplies for the upcoming term.

In other action the trustees: Left the entrance age for beginning children where it always has been—six years old before September 15.

Approved purchase of a new dish-washing machine for the Lee school.

Authorized Norwood and Shop Instructor H. E. Smalling to make necessary purchases of war surplus properties made available to Texas schools by a distribution agency at the board's request.

Norwood told the board that 78 mattresses had been bought there for 40¢ apiece, to be used at the football camp. Sixty army cots had been donated by a local oil man it was reported.

Approval of bills for completing the men's toilet and shower room addition at Tiger Field and the painting of football stands. The total cost wasn't available, as yet.

It was announced at the meeting that a petition had been received from residents in the area of the Magnolia Pipeline Co., protesting any plans to set up a ball park there. This was the second protest from residents in proposed park areas. It seems that everyone in the city wants a ball park for the youngsters but none wants it near his home.

Attending the board meeting were Mrs. H. R. Stroube, chairman; R. L. Wheeler, E. A. Pierce, Doyle L. West, Embury S. Ferguson, C. B. Middleton and

Peaches Perk Up Any Course

PEACH AND PLUM JAM... A new taste treat...

BROILED PEACHES... To glorify a mixed grill...

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor.

Peaches may be scarce this year, so you may want to store some of their sunny goodness for later use. Here's how to stretch them with plums in a good home-made jam. And for a special summer treat glorify the usual ground meat patties by broiling fresh peach halves to serve with them.

Peach and Plum Jam.
Ingredients—1 1/2 pounds (about) soft ripe peaches, 1 pound (about) fully ripe plums, 7 1/2 cups sugar, 1 bottle fruit pectin.

Method—Peel and pit peaches. Grind or chop very fine. Pit (do not peel) plums. Cut in small pieces and chop. Mix peaches and plums and measure 4 1/2 cups into a very large saucepan. Add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once. Makes about 12 six-ounce glasses.

Broiled Peaches.
Ingredients—6 fresh peaches, 1 1/4 cup lemon juice, 1 1/4 cup vitaminized margarine, 3 tablespoons white or brown sugar, 1 1/4 cup ground cinnamon (or 1 teaspoon cinnamon), ground meat patties, bacon strips.

Method—Peel and halve peaches, brush with lemon juice. Place with hollow side up on broiling rack, or in a shallow pan. Brush each peach generously with melted vitaminized margarine. Sprinkle with sugar. Put a few cinnamon candies or sprinkle with cinnamon in each hollow. Broil peaches in a moderate (350°F) oven about 3 to 4 inches from the broiling unit. Serve hot as a mixed grill with ground meat patties that have been wrapped with bacon strips. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Investigators Find More Poison Victims At Rice

Health department officials today said their investigations of poisonings at Rice have revealed that four other persons, besides members of the J. L. Leach family have been exposed to some sort of poisoning.

E. C. Nelson of the state health department said Hugh Bell, Henry Johnson, Jim Bolt and H. R. Hall, all employees at a cotton gin, were poisoned Friday and Saturday. Two of the men required doctor's care but none were hospitalized.

Nelson said he believes the shallow water well at the gin may be responsible for the poisonings. He pointed out that all members of the Leach family used water from this well as did the four men.

"None of the men," he said, "were at the Leach home nor did they drink anything but the well water while working at the gin."

Nelson also said that all the gin workers but Bolt became ill Friday, while Bolt who drank less of the water than others didn't become sick until Saturday.

Samples of the well water have been sent to Austin, Nelson said to be analyzed. He said investigations were to be continued at Rice today.

Seven members of the Leach family were admitted to P and S hospital in Corsicana Monday. The youngest child, Jeanene, 3, died as a result of the poison, Dr. W. K. Logsdon said.

Tuesday, Dr. Logsdon said he believed the family was suffering from some sort of food poisoning. Hospital officials today said members of the Leach family, "aren't doing too well."

The pastor of the Methodist church, Rev. Don Hazelwood, preached at both hours Sunday. Due to the fact that the church is undergoing some decorating, services were held in the school building.

Rev. Virgin Fielden, pastor of the Baptist church, is holding a revival meeting at the Baptist church in Purdon this week. A number of Emhouse people have been attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ray and sons of Grownwood have been visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Ray, for several days.

The annual Armstrong family reunion was held at the park in Corsicana Sunday. L. W. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Stokes Armstrong and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Armstrong and family,

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Shows and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Gillen and family, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Gillen and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Drane attended the reunion from here.

Our hearts were made sad at the passing of our good friend and neighbor, Raymond Davidson.

He had been a resident of Emhouse for a long period of time, and he had endeared himself in the hearts of all who knew him. Our heartfelt sympathy goes to his bereaved family.

Mrs. Will Johnson has received a letter from her son, Tobe Johnson, in Korea.

E. D. McCarver, Veteran Corsicana Laundry Operator, Is Honored On 80th Birthday With Plant Party

By DON MORRISSEY
Daily Sun Staff.

Sixty-two years of washing other people's clothing were celebrated at the Corsicana Laundry and Dry Cleaning Co. Tuesday afternoon when E. D. McCarver was honored on his 80th birthday.

The party for "Uncle Ed" was held at the Main street entrance of the laundry and more than 100 guests and employees attended. Nearly all of the 80 employed by the laundry were on hand for the refreshments of birthday cake and soft drinks.

Until about 18 months ago, McCarver was at the laundry nearly every day. Now a little older and not in the prime of health, his trips to the plant are not as frequent but he still maintains an active interest in its operations.

McCarver started in the laundry business in Dallas when he was 18 years old and opened up his first laundry in Corsicana about 45 years ago.

During the 45 years in this city he operated from three different buildings and has been in the present location at Main and Fourth for more than 20 years.

Up until about 20 years ago, the laundry system was a hand operation. During his 62 years in the laundry business, McCarver has seen machinery and equipment change and improve. He has seen laundry operations change from hand power and wash boards and hand irons to modern machinery which whips out the family wash and prepares it for home delivery in a matter of hours.

He also has seen his business grow from a few hundred pounds a week to several thousand pounds weekly. He feels he has one of the most modern laundry plants of any small city.

Dry cleaning wasn't added until about a decade and a half ago. There's a story in this.

McCarver refused to add the dry cleaning plant prior to that time because many of his friends were in the business and because they were his friends he didn't want to be their competitors.

He still has friends in the dry cleaning business, but changes in types of clothing and modern improvements made it necessary to add the chemical cleaning business.

Up until the time of the war the local laundry operated its own generator and made part of its own electricity.

The elderly laundry operator still marvels at the changes he has seen in his business.

He recalled, "It's not hard to remember when a family laundry took days to wash and iron, sometimes as much as a week or more. Now a family wash can be handled in a day's time."

He also said he remembered when dry cleaning was a long and tedious operation and it took several days to clean and dry a garment.

"The cleaning smell seemed to hang on for days," he added. Some of the older employs, all but one of whom are still working at the plant, who attended the birthday celebration included the following:

Miss Reta Carroll, a 20-year employee; Miss Fannie Black, about 30 years; Mrs. Willie Eckerman,

E. D. McCARVER

23 years; Rose Mayfield the negress who does the handwork, 36 years; Mrs. Jessie Donathan, 15 years; and F. W. Durr, about 25 years.

The former employee attending the party was Mrs. Lois White, Basin, Wyo., who worked at the laundry off and on for about 20 years. Mrs. White came for the celebration and while waiting helped out in the plant.

Always a civic-minded person and a backer of Corsicana's progress, McCarver is an enthusiastic member of the First Methodist church. He has served in several official capacities for the church and at present is an honorary steward.

Though his visits to the laundry aren't as frequent as they used to be, the McCarver name still operates the business. Two children, Mildred Harrison and Farley McCarver, see to it that the establishment runs according to McCarver traditions.

There are five other children: Mrs. T. J. Cole, Tulsa, Okla.; Mrs. Hal Hancock, Dallas; Mrs. Anna Laura Gail, Los Angeles, Calif.; Jack McCarver, Albuquerque, N. M.; and Lawrence McCarver, Orange, Texas.

Also included in the family group are 10 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

As his 80th birthday party drew to a close, the honored guest said: "I hope I'll see all of you here next year."

VA Does Not Sell Magazine Subscriptions

Information has been received by Robert C. Reeder, contact representative of the Veterans Administration in Corsicana, that magazine salesmen in the area have claimed that their sales programs are endorsed by the Veterans Administration. According to reports, several veterans have made purchases on the strength of statements that the VA approves the sales programs.

Doctor George T. McMahon, manager of the VA Center at Waco, advises that the VA does not sell magazine subscriptions. Nor does the VA endorse such salesmen and sales programs, or authorize its employees or organizations to engage in such activities for the VA.

Doctor McMahon therefore cautions veterans and others who may be approached by salesmen claiming any connection with the VA to be extremely careful before entering into any financial arrangements.

Responsibility For Insurance Settled In Court

An insurance legal battle over who would pay $9,000 to the widow of a fatally injured Frost gin employee was settled by a Navarro district court jury Wednesday.

The suit grew out of the death of Robert E. Mitchell who suffered a fatal fall while working at the H. C. Ritchie gin in Frost on September 29, 1949.

Ritchie held a policy from the Traders and General Insurance Co. The Industrial Accident Board, under the Workmen's compensation act, later awarded $9,000 to the widow and minor child, Sarah Jo. But the insurance company appealed, naming in the suit tried here Wednesday the Houston Fire and Casualty Co., as a defendant.

Evidence was introduced showing that the gin was owned and controlled by the Lockhart Corporation, which was insured by the Houston company.

During the trial, attorneys representing the two insurance companies each argued that his respective policyholder was not the employer of deceased.

The jury held, however, that Lockhart was the employer—not Ritchie, who was the corporation's general manager—and ordered the Houston Fire and Casualty Co. to pay the $9,000.

Bristol Rites Wednesday For Mrs. Alma French

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Bristol, Texas, for Mrs. Alma French, 62, native of Frost who died Tuesday at the Dallas residence of her daughter, Mrs. Etta Steward.

Mrs. French was born in Frost and lived there until 1928, when she moved to Bristol.

Services were held from the First Methodist Church there with Rev. G. W. French of Port Worth officiating. Burial was in the cemetery at Bristol.

Surviving are the husband, G. C. French of Bristol; three sons, L. J. French of Morrison, Okla.; W. Wesley French of Houston; six daughters, Mrs. Bettie Zuber, Dallas; Mrs. Cleo Cantrell of Houston, Mrs. Evelyn Thomas, Mrs. Cleburne Harvey, Miss Georgia French and Miss Fannie French, all of Dallas; three brothers, John Ritter of Buffalo, R. R. Ritter of Trinidad, and Earl Ritter of Dawson; two sisters, Mrs. Emory Spain, Malakoff, and Mrs. Carl Hagie, Corsicana, seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Corley Funeral Home was in charge.

Hillsboro Jury Convicts Woman Of Shooting Man

HILLSBORO, Aug. 9. (AP)—Mrs. Maude Elizabeth (Billie) Prestidge, 32, of Cleburne, was convicted of murder without malice by a district court jury here Tuesday night.

The jury found the defendant guilty in the Jan. 11 slaying of Pat Jones Ward, 50, a Waco wholesale lumber dealer and former Limestone county commissioner.

She was assessed two years in prison, but the sentence was suspended.

Key witness for the defense was a Hillsboro nurse, Mrs. Pauline Powell. She said Ward had told her he had made a "mess of his life," had tried to shoot himself, hadn't succeeded.

He told the nurse this as she was cutting his blood-soaked shirt off his back to treat gunshot wounds in a local hospital, following the shooting. The nurse said Mrs. Prestidge brought him to the hospital.

The jury reached its verdict in 12 minutes.

Houston Catches Barefoot Thief

HOUSTON, Aug. 10. (AP)—The mystery of Houston's barefoot burglar was solved today.

He is a 43-year-old negro ex-convict, who told police he has burglarized at least 500 places in Houston since December of 1948, and estimated his loot at $100,000.

Asked by reporters what he did with the loot he replied: "I gambled an awful lot."

Robert Lorenza Caradine, 43, was charged in two cases of burglary before Justice Tom Maes. However, Burglary Captain Tom Eubanks said police have checked on his tales of burglarizing 305 homes—and found them to fit reports of the burglaries made by victims.

The negro said he was sentenced in 1935 to serve 495 years in the penitentiary from Dallas county for burglary.

But after serving 10 years of it, he was reprieved in 1946, he said.

tie when hammered by American artillery and rocketing and strafing from the air.

In the bridgehead battle the Americans are flanking and encircling the Communists with superior numbers and firepower. This reverses the story of the bitter retreats earlier, when Americans were repeatedly encircled and outflanked.

Only two American divisions are watching that 40 airline mile front in the west. It must cover at least 70 miles as the river winds. The only way to hold such a line is from observation positions with troops set to strike quickly at any crossing force. That's just what the Americans have been doing.

In force, the key U. S. base, Taegu, to build up any of their bridgeheads and break through in force, the key U. S. base, Taegu, would have fallen.

There were critical comments when General Walker gambled on so thin a line to hold such an important base as Taegu.

But, measured against Pusan, Taegu ranks only as an effective outpost supply and air base. Pusan supports the entire United Nations campaign in Korea. There was little choice for Walker but to gamble.

The gamble isn't finished yet.

On the northern front the Communists are steadily building up their most direct and shortest supply routes. For the last three days South Koreans have been under steady attack pressure north of Taegu.

Driven back on Chinju in the south, and repulsed on the Nakdong in the west, the Communists may try their next power assault from the northwest with scant reserve allied power to meet such a threat.

gilia to be a member of the federal trade commission.

Facing the firm opposition of Senator Byrd (D-Va), Hutchinson was snowed under by an adverse 59 to 14 total. Only 13 Democrats voted yes, aided by Senator Langer (R-ND).

Byrd reminded the senate that one of the "important checks and balances" was senate confirmation of presidential appointments. He noted that even President Truman, as a Missouri senator, had battled some Democratic Presidential appointments.

Byrd's Democratic colleague, Senator Robertson of Virginia, made a brief statement backing up what Byrd had said.

The other Truman nominees turned down, who had been serving under recess appointments, were:

Frank E. Hook, former Democratic representative from Michigan, for a job as a member of the motor claims commission.

M. Neil Andrews as a federal district court judge in Northern Georgia.

Carroll O. Switzer as a federal district judge in Southern Iowa.

County Beef Calf Show Scheduled At Fairgrounds By 4-H, FFA Youngsters

By CLYDE JOHNSON
Daily Sun Staff.

Dozens of 4-H and FFA youths, out of pure interest alone, will stage their first annual county beef calf show at the Fair Grounds August 26.

They will receive no cash awards. But ribbons will be given in judging of grades and showmanship. Each animal will be classed as to its grade—prime, choice, good, medium or common—and ribbons awarded accordingly.

Complete details of the affair, which will attract nearly 50 entries, will be worked out at the FFA-4-H committee meeting at the courthouse Saturday. Assistant County Agent Curtis Henderson announced.

"This show is being run by boys and girl themselves," said Henderson, "and it will be a preview to the big county affair which opens Sept. 26—a month later."

John Myers is chairman of the arrangements committee.

Several Navarro county farmers may run into difficulties in securing their marketing cards from the PMA unless they take care of their surplus cotton acreages immediately.

PMA Secretary Bob Clitque said Thursday that about 100 farmers have failed to notify his office what they intend to do about the excessive cotton. The 15-day period allowed by law has expired in many cases, he said. Farmers should advise the PMA what their intentions are.

FARM FACTS—Farm families spend $8 million annually in the average county of the nation... Acres planted to the principal U. Per capita food consumption in America now is one-tenth greater than before the war, but farmers are producing one-third more.

850 Schoolboy Grid Entries To Start Long Grind In Less Than Month Now

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Less than a month away is the start of another Texas schoolboy football campaign, with more than 850 teams in the divisions of the interscholastic league.

A scattering of games is scheduled as early as September 1, but none are among the top divisions. There are many games Sept. 8, still more Sept. 15 and by Sept. 22 all of the schools will have swung into the grind.

Favorites Listed

Lamar (Houston) in the City Conference; Odessa, Highland Park (Dallas), Port Arthur and Miller (Corpus Christi) in Class AA and New Braunfels, Mt. Vernon, Dahlart, Andrews and Littlefield in Class A are considered the stand-out teams in the three divisions that determine State champions.

Lamar may be closest pressed by a team in its own District—Reagan (Houston). Both are rated among the strongest teams of all time in Houston.

Sunset (Dallas), a 1949 State finalist, and Crozier Tech (Dallas) are due to fight it out for the District 1 title of the City Conference. Paschal is considered the leader in the Fort Worth District and Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio), the defending champion, looks like No. 1 in District 4.

All coaches in Class AA are striving to convince the critics the District should be rated down in the District races, which would make a most unique situation. Coach John Tomlin of Port Arthur says he doesn't expect his team to be as strong as last season because it has lost speed but that it will have more maturity and will be as big. Coach Joe Coleman of Odessa expects a good team but says it will be young—that 1951 is when he is due for a powerhouse. Highland Park has 18 lettermen and a new coach, Floyd Hightower. Hightower, who was the mentor before the war, has been returned to the job due to the departure of Herman Morgan, now freshman coach at Southern Methodist.

Fellow coaches say Grady Hester will have a great team at Miller High, with which Hester doesn't agree. But it does look like the favorite of District 14.

The Districts look like this:

- 1—Amarillo.
- 2—Wichita Falls, Vernon.
- 3—Odessa, Lubbock.
- 4—El Paso High.
- 5—Abilene, San Angelo.

- 6—Breckenridge, Cleburne.
- 7—Sherman, Denison.
- 8—Highland Park.
- 9—Marshall, Texarkana.
- 10—Conroe.
- 11—Port Arthur.
- 12—Galena Park, Freeport, Baytown.
- 13—Waco, Temple, Corsicana.
- 14—Miller (Corpus Christi), Kerrville.
- 15—Alice.
- 16—McAllen, Brownsville.

Coach Joe Golding of Wichita Falls has two regulars from last year's state champions—Tommy Fields, fullback, and Bill Harris, center. He also has Jim Self, that speedy wingback, and Ed Beach, a fullback, who were top-flight reserves. And, in all, Wichita Falls has 19 lettermen.

Austin has lost many men from its 1949 finalists but always has plenty of manpower. Hester says Austin will be the team to beat in the District 14 race and that Kerrville might knock over all of them.

There will be 26 teams in the City Conference, 79 in Class AA, 222 in Class A, 390 in Class B and 160 in Six-Man.

New Propaganda Drive Is Started

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—(P)—A new Communist anti-American press campaign raised fears today that the Russians may be getting ready to try again to force the Allies from Berlin.

They failed with their blockade of the city last year.

The new propaganda drive centers around charges that an American plane, with the identification number "S-45," dropped firebombs over a town near the Elbe July 27.

(In Washington an official at the Pentagon said American planes don't bear "S" identifications and he had not heard of the alleged incident.)

The drive is fashioned on the same line as the potato bug campaign three months ago in which American planes were accused of dropping Colorado beetles on east German potato fields.

More Robberies Tied To Gunman

DALLAS, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Fleming Van Derrick, 33-year-old gunman, was arrested and captured after a $15,000 jewelry robbery here on Monday night, was identified today by victims of two other local robberies.

Derrick is one of three men held in connection with the latest robbery, which took place in the North Dallas home of oilman E. B. Brann. One suspect is being held in Wichita, Kan., and the other in Dallas.

Victims linked Derrick with the $2,000 jewelry robbery at the L. B. Billingsley home on June 12 and a $20,000 jewelry hold up at the Raymond Hubbard home April 2.

Derrick also has been identified as the masked gunman who held up a McKinney theater owner, Roy Eckman, Jr., and fled with $500 in cash and jewelry Sunday night.

Dallas police, meanwhile, have recovered most of the Brann jewelry in a field of high grass near the Brann home. Still missing was a five and a half carat diamond ring belonging to Mrs. Brann.

Calhoun Thinks Convention Can Name Candidate

John C. Calhoun, Corsicana, chairman of the State Democratic executive committee, today said he believed the Democratic party in convention at Mineral Wells in September would have the right to name a candidate for governor on the party's ticket in the general election.

Calhoun was referring to the post in the 6th judicial district which was vacated recently by the death of District Judge Walter Morris, Fort Worth.

After consulting with attorneys, Chairman Calhoun said he understood the executive committee cannot make a nomination except where a nominee has died or declined a nomination. Judge Morris had about two years left in his term.

The chairman's statement pointed out that the governor has the power to appoint an acting judge until Jan. 1, when the elected candidate would take office.

Calhoun issued this statement after his counsel reviewed cases concerning similar occurrences.

Jaycees Start Circulating Swim Pool Bond Petitions

Petitions calling for a bond election of at least $70,000 to finance a municipal swimming pool were placed in circulation Tuesday by the Corsicana Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The petitions were handed out Monday night at a general meeting of the Chamber in the Navarro Hotel. Within a week, the organization hopes to have 1,000 signatures. Ten team captains were named by President Hal Bookout, who reminded the Jaycees that "we are performing a public service."

He urged each captain to secure 100 signatures to his team's petition and report back to the board of directors Monday.

"The people of Corsicana have complained of the poor recreational facilities," said Bookout. "Now they will be given an opportunity to do something about it."

The proposed swimming pool would cost about $70,000, according to estimates furnished the Jaycees by reputable architects. The petitions, however, urge the City Commission to call a bond election for the purpose of voting at least $100,000 in bonds for the pool construction, "or for $100,000 if in your judgment it is advisable to include this additional amount for a park or parks in other parts of the city."

It is probable that such a bond issue could be retired in 20 years by adding only two or three cents on the dollar.

It has been announced that the city will furnish a site at the City Park, which for many years has not served a very useful purpose.

Signers of the petition need not hold a poll tax receipt. They need only be property taxpayers living in the city.

Although long on the Jaycees' agenda, the petition began approaching a possibility only until recently, with a reorganization of the Junior Chamber. The entire citizenry and all service clubs and women's organizations will be asked to support the project.

The proposed pool would meet Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) requirements, measuring 120 feet in length, 40 feet wide at the deepest point and 85 feet across at the shallowest section. Besides being self-sustaining, the pool possibly would

A Little-Known Jewish Leader Headed A Great Revival

Ezra Gave His People What Our Country Desperately Needs Today—His Message Bible-Centered—This Ancient Movement Full Of Suggestions For Present Church Advance

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS.

Ezra, the Scribe, is a little known Bible character. He is well known to students of the Bible who have studied the structure of the Great Book, for Ezra probably had more to do with putting the Old Testament into its present form than any other man. But the average Bible reader knows very little about him.

In the Sunday school lesson this week, we see this man in the character of a great revivalist. He was a great revivalist which he led among the Jews of Jerusalem. Almost a hundred years before, a group of zealous Jews had, with the permission of Cyrus, king of Persia, returned to the ruined city of Jerusalem from which their parents and grandparents had been carried into exile. Since the exiles had been in Persia for so long, they had picked up many of the customs and habits of the Persians, and were in need of spiritual revival.

The revival arose in a time of spiritual depression. The people had lost their sense of the abiding presence of God in their midst. There was a widespread heart hunger which resulted in an appeal on the part of the people that they earned sobriety. Ezra explains to them their duty to God. This spiritual awakening started, as all such movements should, from the needs and aspirations of common folk.

The Past Mirrored In Today.

It seems scarcely necessary to point out the coincidence of this situation with the life and needs of today. Right now, human hearts are hungry for human stomachs. Our contemporary dissatisfaction with life, which is so profound and widespread is a surging up of humanity's oldest and deepest desire. Men and women want something more satisfying than food and material comforts and ingenious pleasures. Their insatiable cry is for peace and purpose and power in life. As St. Augustine once wrote: "Thou hast fashioned us for Thyself, O God, and our hearts are restless until they find their rest in Thee." It is God-hunger which really ails the world.

What an arousal of enthusiasm and power the religious awakening became under the leadership of Ezra!

Back to the Book.

Its outstanding characteristic was that it was a Bible-centered movement. Ezra preached the Bible to his listeners, and his assistants gathered them into smaller groups, answered the questions which were asked, and helped the people apply these truths to the problems of their daily life.

In contrast with this, we encounter one of the great weaknesses of much modern preaching and religious teaching. These may be skilled in phrases and filled with helpful quotations, but often they are short on Biblical facts, the variety which really make a difference in practical living. They reflect what certain moderns think instead of teaching the thrilling story which constitutes the "plot" of the Bible, wherein we learn how God in His mercy has redeemed His people from the purpose of redeeming mankind and putting heavily upon purpose into the life of faith to follow. There is more power in the telling of the story than in all the clever phrases and philosophy of orators.

Worse Than the Bomb.

More deeply dangerous than any of the present-day hazards which hang over our heads like the sword of Damocles, are many of the prevalent ideas about God. A generation untaught in the Scriptures is reaping a harvest of wrong conceptions of the Deity, some of them as nebulous as summer clouds; others as crazy as jungle ignorance. For a man, and saving sense of the saving power of God, we must know the Scriptures.

We shall not find Him, but only a few of His attributes, through the astronomer's telescope and the scientist's laboratory's speculations. The living God is a revealed God, to be found in the written word and in "the Word made flesh." And if we do not know God, we have missed the key to all other wisdom, and particularly to the solution of moral problems.

Fooling Ourselves.

None of the permanent facts of life are altered by the pressing problems of modern life; they are only obscured. By the pursuit of transitory objectives, and by the reign of an illusory conception of success, society has been blinded to the realities which no man can change; and which are older than the pyramids. We have often tried, in the working out of great church advances, to substitute new ideas and new machinery for new life.

A religious awakening has already started amid the affairs of our chaotic modern world. It has not yet reached the headlines—save in a few isolated instances—but it has started in many places and among many groups. If it is to be successful it must follow the pattern laid down by the Jewish scribe, Ezra, centuries ago, and later by the Christian apostles. These laid their primary emphasis liquidate itself eventually, Jaycees believe.

Team captains named by Bookout were Horace Cowan, Burney Bobkoff, Alvin Marks, Bobby Butler, T. Smith, Bill Robinson, and co-captains Ed Harris and Calvin Pike; Tom Westbrook and William H. Patrick, and Bill Flynn and Hal Faughn, and himself.

Several Jaycees members are serving with the team leaders in circulating the petitions. The petition follows:

THE HONORABLE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF CORSIANA:

The Corsicana Junior Chamber of Commerce has consulted with architects, and has full information concerning the costs of constructing a modern swimming pool in the City of Corsicana. It appears that an adequate sized swimming pool should cost approximately $65,000, and that bath houses, dressing rooms, and other accommodations would cost an additional $5,000, making a total cost of $70,000.

Corsicana is greatly in need of a municipal swimming pool. Many persons who otherwise would visit or settle in Corsicana refuse to do so because of this lack of convenience and diversion. The City Park would furnish an ideal location for such a pool, and it is believed that such a pool, when constructed and in operation, would not only be self-sustaining, but would eventually liquidate itself.

THEREFORE, we the undersigned property taxpayers citizens of the City of Corsicana, Texas, do hereby petition you to call a bond election for the purpose of voting at least $70,000 in bonds for the construction of a municipal swimming pool, or for $100,000, if in your judgment it is advisable to include this additional sum for a park or parks in other parts of the City. We verily believe that the majority of the property taxpayers citizens are in favor of such a bond issue and will vote the same, and we further believe that the low bonded indebtedness of the City justifies the submission of such a bond issue.

With the probability that such a bond issue could be retired by adding only two or three cents on the dollar to taxes each year, no property owner will be penalized greatly, but all will have the free use and enjoyment of a municipal swimming pool for the small additional charge that may be fixed.

We earnestly solicit your action in calling this bond issue at the earliest possible date.

D-E Instructor Plans Interview CHS Students

William A. Speary, distributive education instructor for Corsicana High School, has assumed his duties and has made plans to contact merchants for their assistance.

The program calls for part-time class work and part-time work in downtown stores. The schools here never had such a program before.

Speary, who comes from Texarkana, will interview students interested in the new vocational program at the high school Monday at 8 a. m., he announced.

"Distributive education is a course of interest to all juniors and seniors who seek careers in the field of distribution," said Speary.

Both boys and girls are eligible and students who enroll will be placed in training in jobs in Corsicana business houses, he said.

Students may train for any of the numerous types of work in the distributive fields—shipping, receiving, selling, advertising, display, credit office work, and many others," the teacher announced.

Students will go to school in the morning and will study D-E along with other school subjects. In the afternoon and on Saturdays they will receive practical training at a training center.

Tow credits will be given for the course.

4-H BOYS FROM 19 COUNTIES ATTEND TRINIDAD CAMP

Representing the 19 counties comprising District IX, 100 4-H Club boys together with their county agricultural agents held a three-day encampment on the grounds of the Texas Power & Light Company's generating station at Trinidad, July 27-29.

"The primary objective of the encampment," said W. H. Jones, College Station, district agent in charge of the camp, "is leadership training. These boys, in most instances, will be responsible for conducting similar camps back in their own counties. The facilities here at Trinidad are ideal for this type program which contributes greatly to our county 4-H Club activities."

The camp program was well balanced with recreation and study periods. Swimming, soft ball, horse shoe pitching and wildlife studies were featured along with inspirational talks by 4-H Club leaders and open forum discussion of common problems.

Payne To Call Preliminary Session Of Tiger Gridders Here August 14

Head Coach Boyd Payne and his assistants will call out the candidates for the 1950 Tiger grid team next Monday afternoon for a preliminary try-out. It was announced this week.

Payne has asked all those interested in playing football for Corsicana high school this fall to be present at 5:30 p. m. on Monday, August 14 at the high school.

Football practice is forbidden by the interscholastic league until September 1, and Payne said that, like most other coaches, he would comply with that rule. The Monday session will be nothing more than a preliminary talk.

Payne also said that beginning next week and continuing until the Sept. 1 deadline, the group of boys who report will engage in a recreational program each afternoon, to play softball and other conditioning sports not associated with football. No equipment will be issued during that time, Payne said.

Asked the Tiger prospects for the coming fall season, Payne pointed out that "we can't win every year. We may get our ears pinned back several times this season, but I think we'll be interesting to watch."

He pointed out that 23 out of the 29 "A" team lettermen of 1949 are gone, and that many capable replacements must be found, particularly in the line, which was one of the keystones of the Corsicana club last year.

The 1949 "A" team lettermen scheduled to return this fall include all-state Duane Nutt at quarter; Jimmy Wood, one of the best guards in the state; Rayborn Matthews, blocking back last season and a fine linebacker; Bobby Malcolm, another rugged guard; Lavell Isbell, tackle; Jimmy Cravens, end and linebacker last year; and Kenneth Bailey, back.

The Tigers are to report for football practice on Sept. 1. They'll get two days of drills there before taking off for a week of camp at the Pickett school on the old Waco highway. On Sept. 8 the Dads Club barbecue will be held there, and the Tigers will return to

The new factory will be located in a hangar at the Municipal airport and will manufacture plastic pipe.

OAK VALLEY H-D CLUB

Mrs. Smith expressed appreciation for the courtesy extended the Corsicana society.

Some Circle Meetings First Methodist WSCS will have no other general meeting this month, although several circle meetings have been announced. Its regular first Monday meeting will be set aside in September also, because of conflict with the Labor Day week-end.

Nine Felony Indictments Are Dismissed

District Judge A. P. Mays has dismissed nine felony indictments on motion of County Attorney Charles T. Banister.

Those dismissed included an assault with intent to murder charge against L. W. Fraley in the fatal shooting one year ago of W. F. Hollifield at Blooming Grove. Fraley already is under a two-year suspended sentence on conviction of murder without malice in the case.

The other dismissals were because the defendants are under prison terms. They were: Clyde James Bingham, alias Clyde James, burglary, now serving a ten-year term in the Florida State Penitentiary.

Richard Dennis Grainger, two indictments for burglary, sent to the penitentiary from Eastland, Texas, and injured parties here did not desire to prosecute.

Richard Gladish, theft, serving three years after pleading guilty before Judge Mays in case based on occurrence alleged in this indictment. Two other theft cases against Gladish were dismissed for the same reason.

Columbus Tilford Dunkins, two burglary indictments, received two years in a third case.

Bricker Is Opposed To Standby Controls

TRUCE URGED ON POLITICS BY O'MAHONEY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) contended in the senate today that congress ought to keep for itself the right to decide when and if wage and price controls are needed.

He argued against granting that power to President Truman as proposed in pending economic controls legislation.

To give wage-price powers to the President, he said, would create two dangers.

First, a piecemeal approach would create inequities faster than they could be corrected.

Second, the President would be subject to tremendous pressures to control certain commodities, and having started a piecemeal system, he would be powerless to stop general price and wage controls even if he should feel they were premature.

The senate returned to debate on the bill after a week-end exchange of Republican-Democratic charges of playing politics with home front mobilization.

Two Republican lawmakers assailed the Truman administration's handling of the program. Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), talking with reporters, called in reply for "a truce on partisan politics."

"I think this is a very poor time for anyone—Democrats or Republicans—to challenge the motives of those who are called upon to make the extremely difficult decisions required," O'Mahoney declared.

This of all times is a time for a truce on partisan politics, for partisan attacks are wholly uncalled for and only serve to weaken us."

O'Mahoney was replying to weekend attacks on the administration by Senators Aiken (R-Vt.) and Martin (R-Pa.).

Aiken predicted easy senate passage this week of a house-approved bill which would set up authority for wage-price-ratting curbs, but he said President Truman declined "for political reasons" to ask congress for those controls.

Truman did ask for immediate power to allocate material, set up priorities and curb credit. The

Ford Workers Threaten Strike Unless Pay Hiked

DETROIT, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Under threat of future strike action, the Ford Motor Company today studied a request from the CIO United Auto Workers that the present contract be reopened and wages hiked immediately.

The UAW represents 115,000 Ford production workers across the nation.

Unless the demands are met, the general council of Ford's 60,000-member UAW Local 600 of Detroit approved strike action for Jan. 2, 1951. The present contract expires Jan. 1.

The contract now in force bars any review of wages before the expiration date. But Ken Bannan, UAW Ford director, declared the contract provides for a reopening on wages if both parties agree.

The union contends that "the spiraling cost of living" justifies a wage increase this time.

Bannan said wage increases this year by competitors—General Motors and Chrysler—have resulted in inequities in the rates paid to Ford workers and workers in other plants on comparable classifications of work.

Local 600 first demanded a wage review 10 days ago. The company rejected the request, pointing out that the contract did not permit a reopening and that the contract was on a nation-wide basis for its production workers. The second UAW demand, in behalf of all of Ford's production workers, followed.

McMahon made a cryptic reference, on an NBC television show, to "nominal atomic bombs" of the old-fashioned Hiroshima and Nagasaki type.

He did not elaborate, but use of the word "nominal"—which he emphasized—added another bit to the growing evidence that A-bombs used in World War II have been far surpassed in destructiveness.

The first comprehensive official discussion of the untold art of "radioactive warfare"—the technique of killing or sickening persons by poisoning nuclear fission products—is contained in a government book published over the week end.

It is "The Effect of Atomic Weapons," issued by the Atomic Energy Commission. While the book was prepared primarily to advise civilian defense agencies and the public about conditions to be expected under atomic attack, it also presented a report on present or possible future uses of various types of atomic weapons.

The book covers both the advantages and handicaps of radiological warfare, commonly called "RW," and leaves some doubt about how practicable the weapon might be at its present stage of development.

It says an advantage of the "RW" weapon is its compactness—pounds of one material could cause as much harm as it spread uniformly over a larger area. But the problem would be to spread it uniformly.

One of its biggest potentialities is psychological: it can't be seen or smelled, thus becomes a "mystery weapon" to frighten populations with the fear of unseen death.

But "RW" material can't be stockpiled like conventional munitions. It loses strength quickly and must be produced almost as used.

States Battle Federal Tidelands Operations

Price Daniel Opposed Fight On O'Mahoney Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Legislation designed to avoid an interruption of oil operations on land under the marginal seas ran into the usual state vs. federal dispute today before the senate interior committee.

Hardly had Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) called his group into session before it became evident that sharp differences prevailed.

O'Mahoney's plan is to give the interior department control over oil well drilling in the so-called tidelands pending settlement of the federal-state dispute over who owns them.

Lined up on one side were federal officials represented at the hearing by Solicitor Mastin G. White of the interior department. Congressmen and state officials of the three states most concerned—Texas, Louisiana and California—were on hand to oppose the measure.

First witness for the opposition was Texas Attorney General Price Daniel. He urged the resolution be rewritten to provide for continued state control and operation of the disputed lands on a temporary basis.

White told the committee that the Korean war is causing a sharp

Government Says Convicted Reds Should Be Jailed

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—(AP)—The government charged today that the 11 convicted Communist leaders are backing Communist forces in Korea and elsewhere, and thus "should not be at large in this hour of national crisis."

U. S. Attorney General J. Edgar Hoover said the government's affidavit in support of its move to have the "American Politburo" members now free on bail—jailed while their appeals are being considered by the courts.

All have been found guilty of criminal conspiracy and sentenced to prison terms up to five years.

A two-year request for pre-trial confinement was filed with the court today. The affidavit with photostats of recent articles in the Daily Worker, Communist newspaper, assailing the United Nations action in Korea and denouncing "American war-makers."

The Daily Worker propaganda line since the Korean fighting began, an affidavit said, "justifies the conclusion that with the welfare and security of the United States and its armed forces at stake, appellants' loyalty to the Communist forces in Korea and throughout the world is undivided and unquestioned."

Saypol said the party leaders "are continuing to pursue the same course of conduct which led to their conviction" and "they should not be at large in this hour of national crisis."

The defendants must show cause in federal court here next Thursday why they should not go to jail at once.

He added that it was the party's desire to carry out elections as cheaply as possible.

"Our main interest is to improve the voting system of Navarro county," he concluded.

The fact aimed is to consolidate some of the precincts and thereby enumerate excessive costs and inefficiencies that arise in the very small voting places.

Improved road conditions and better methods of travel make such changes possible now-a-days. The court formally accepted the bid of E. W. Hable and Sons

European Army Action Is Urged

STRASBOURG, France, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Constantin Tsaldaris formally proposed today that Western European governments begin immediate negotiations for a unified army.

He asked the European Council's consultative assembly to entrust its President Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium, with carrying out the first preliminary steps.

Tsaldaris, former Greek premier, urged the assembly to "start the machinery in motion" for creation of the army proposed by Winston Churchill before the assembly last Friday. Spaak endorsed the plan and the assembly speedily approved it.

Churchill, Britain's wartime prime minister, had warned there is "not a day to lose" for Western Europe to arm itself against Soviet aggression.

No Immediate Requests Due For Military Funds

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Congressional leaders said after a talk with President Truman today that they do not anticipate any immediate requests for still more military funds.

They made it clear, however, that this did not rule out the possibility of further requests.

Since the Korean war began, Truman has asked about $18,500,000,000 of additional defense funds.

Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) told reporters he hopes the house can aid next week on some $14,000,000,000 of military appropriations including the $1,000,000,000 asked for arms aid to allies in Europe and elsewhere.

The Democratic "Big Four"—Rayburn, Vice President Barkley, Senate Leader Lucas (Ill.) and House Leader McCormack (Mass.)—talked with the president for an hour.

They said the discussion was devoted largely to the tax and economic controls measures.

They predicted the senate will be ready to take up the tax bill next week. The senate's finance committee is putting together a bill aimed at raising at least $5,000,000,000 more government revenue through higher taxes on both individuals and business firms.

Lucas said he thought the senate could finish with the pending economic controls bill this week.

The $16,500,000,000 of defense spending asked since the Korean war has run total arms-military requests over the $30,000,000,000 mark.

There was on top of earlier defense spending requests of about $14,500,000,000 already tentatively

Dr. Everett Quits Trinity

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Dr. Monroe G. Everett has resigned as president of Trinity University and will leave the campus today.

Dr. Everett had stipulated in July, 1942, when he took the presidency, that he would wish to retire in 1950 at the age of 65.

"It is with the greatest reluctance that the executive committee grants Dr. Everett's request," Small said.

St. Louis Bus Strike Is Ended

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 14.—(AP)—St. Louis bus drivers and street car operators ended their three-day strike early today. Acting Mayor Charles E. Albano announced the men decided to return unconditionally to their jobs. The public service company said it expected to be in full operation by early morning.

There have been various estimates as to how much money would be saved by the service reduction order. Rep. Canfield (R-N.J.) told the House today the savings would not exceed $25,000,000 a year, but Rep. Cox (D-Ga.) put it at $70,000,000.

The bill got to the house because 218 members signed a discharge petition forcing the vote.

But there was an even greater calculated risk. How would Russia react to the appearance of American planes, bombed and armed for combat, so close to her doorstep?

There was this to remember: On April 8, before there was any shooting war anywhere and in a different part of the world, four Russian fighters shot down a United States navy patrol plane over the waters of the open Baltic. This attack occurred more than 30 miles from the nearest Russian territory, in an area supposedly free to sea or air navigation by any nation, and was made when the United States was at war with no one.

Moscow thereafter let it be known that more action of the same kind could be expected if foreign planes got too close to its iron curtain.

Whatever the reason, there was no indication that the Soviet air force reacted to the Najin mission. Information received here said nothing of the sighting by the bomber mission of non-American aircraft.

UNDERWATER BRIDGES ARE BUILT BY NORTH KOREANS TO GET ARMOR OVER RIVER

TOKYO, Tuesday, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Thrusting underwater bridges across the Nakdong River, the North Koreans probed today for an imminent drive on Taegu by an estimated 60,000 men on the Fifth Anniversary of Korea's liberation from Japan.

A summary issued early today by General MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters placed the thrust near Waegwan, 12 miles northwest of Taegu, main forward American base on the central front of South Korea.

There, it said, the Reds were believed to have completed a second underwater bridge. Such stone and log crossings are sunk about a foot below the surface to escape detection from the air.

Twenty-three miles south of Taegu, the American 24th Infantry Division counterattacked and shoved the Reds Fourth Division back 1,000 yards to a mile along a flaming six-mile-long sector on the allied eastern bank of the river.

Point blank, high velocity fire met the attacking Americans. Intelligence officers said the Communists had managed to get artillery and possibly some tanks over the river.

As weather cleared after rain, Navy planes firing new 11.75-inch rockets for the first time in anger hit the Reds. They destroyed a bridge with the new weapon and blasted Communist tanks and gun positions.

At the deep south anchor of the battline, U. S. Marines took hills just outside rubble Chinha. U. S. 25th Infantry Division troops poked through the hinterland looking for a battalion of Reds cut off by the smashing American offensive of last week that practically destroyed the Red Sixth Infantry Division around Chinha.

At the other end of the 140-mile battline, American Infantry and tanks still held the U. S. airstrip six miles south of Pohang, No. 2 east coast port on the Sea of Japan. Planes no longer used the field, however.

Pohang port was in the hands of a Red Battalion but South Korean forces were fighting them there; at Kigye, nine miles northwest, Reds who crossed the river at

'Tiny Tim,' New American Rocket Is Effective In First Tests In Korea

TOKYO, Aug. 14.—(AP)—The "Tiny Tim," a big new American 11.75-inch rocket, was used Sunday for the first time in real combat. Results were reported good.

Fired from a carrier-based U. S. Navy Corsair fighter plane, one of the armor-piercing rockets knocked out a bridge at Chinha, 12 miles northwest of Taegu, in its first test.

Official announcement from General MacArthur's headquarters said:

"The Tiny Tim rocket was used Sunday for the first time in real combat. Results were reported good."

The size of today's battle forcing the bill to a test indicated that it would pass Tuesday and go to the Senate.

If it passes the senate, the bill then would have to get President Truman's approval before it became a law.

The postal curtailment order was issued on April 17, almost one month after the House appropriations committee had suggested that the department try to save some money by cutting down on service, including a reduction of the number of deliveries per day to many areas."

When it passed the general appropriations bill in May, the House upheld its appropriations committee's recommendation to cut $25,000,000 from postal operating funds for the fiscal year 1951.

World Marked V-J Day Just Five Years Ago

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Five years ago this was V-J Day. Japan, the last of the nations that had tried to conquer the world, had surrendered without conditions.

A few days before, two atomic bombs had brought her empire to its knees—and ushered mankind into a new age.

In the Pacific, tortured China and polished diplomats bowed and smiled as they wove together a new world order.

In Europe, the Western Powers and Russia linked arms across a shattered Germany.

In the Pacific, tortured China saw her 13-year ordeal come to a triumphant close, and American and Russian soldiers hastened to end Korea's 40 years of slavery.

"If the streets, the people went to the barriers broke down. Soldiers and police forced their discipline, drank too much, and kissed all the girls in sight."

It was peace, wasn't it? It was the real McCoy.

House Reverses Economy Stand On Postoffices

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—(AP)—The House reversed itself today and decided tentatively that it doesn't want to save money by cutting postal service.

It voted 248 to 81 to take from its rules committee and bring to a House vote Tuesday a bill canceling the postal service reduction order to reduce home deliveries to one a day and limit other service.

The rules committee had kept the bill from a house vote since it was passed by the House in May, the House upheld its appropriations committee's recommendation to cut $25,000,000 from postal operating funds for the fiscal year 1951.
